COLD STORAGE REPORT
AS OF JULY 1, 1940

Substantial increases were noted in cold storage stocks of practically all commodities during June.

Frozen fruit holdings were increased by 38 million pounds; frozen vegetables by 6 million; creamery butter 55 million; all cheese 27 million; eggs (shell and frozen) the equivalent of 2 million cases; frozen poultry 5 million pounds, and lard holdings by 22 million pounds. Frozen and cured meat stocks were materially the same as a month earlier.

In all classes of products with the exceptions of frozen fruits, frozen vegetables, and creamery butter, July 1, 1940, stocks were heavier than they were on the same date a year earlier and heavier than the 5-year average for July 1.

Again stocks of lard were above those of any period on record.

Increases in commodity holdings are apparently reflected in the amount of refrigerated warehouse space occupied on July 1. Returns from 180 public warehouses indicate that 55 percent of the available net piling space was occupied. This compares with 49 percent of occupancy on June 1. The average occupancy on July 1 was reported as 51 percent for coolers and 64 percent for freezer; increases of 6 percent in each case above the June 1 revised figures.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

FROZEN FRUITS

Total stocks of all varieties of frozen fruits were increased during June by 37,992,000 pounds. July 1 holdings, totaling 120,353,000 pounds, exceeded those of a year earlier by 16,243,000 pounds. Of the fruits, strawberries showed the largest net into-storage movement. The increase in this item totaled 27,204,000 pounds for the month.

Of the total frozen fruits reported 32,648,000 pounds were unclassified by variety.

FROZEN VEGETABLES

The net increase in all varieties of frozen vegetable stocks was 6,246,000 pounds. Increases took place in holdings of asparagus, peas, and spinach; all other items indicated decreases. Stocks of peas were increased during the month by 6,883,000, asparagus by 656,000, and spinach by 577,000 pounds. Total stocks of all frozen vegetables were 1,500,000 pounds less than those on hand July 1 a year earlier. Of the 52,641,000 pounds of vegetables reported, 2,441,000 pounds were unclassified as to variety.

The indicated net into-storage movement of creamery butter during June was 55,379,000 pounds. This quantity compares with 47,172,000 pounds moved into storage during the same period of 1939 and 57,909,000 as the 5-year (1935-39) average for July. July 1, 1940, holdings, totaling 80,842,000 pounds, were 50,767,000 below those of July 1, 1939, and 20,439,000 below average. Dairy Products Marketing Association reported that it held no stocks on July 1. The Surplus Marketing Administration (formerly The Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation) and relief agencies held 2,153,000 pounds, which leaves 78,689,000 pounds as commercial stocks. This latter quantity compares with commercial stocks of 93,108,000 pounds on hand July 1, 1939, and 92,621,000 for the average. On July 1, 1939, the DPMA held 17,867,000 pounds of creamery butter, and the FSOC and relief agencies 20,634,000 pounds.

Holdings of all varieties of cheese were increased by 26,920,000 pounds during June. July 1 stocks, totaling 114,475,000 pounds, exceeded those of a year earlier by 15,625,000 and the average by 18,467,000 pounds. The movement into storage during the month exceeded that for the same period of 1939 by 7,342,000 and the average movement by 7,510,000 pounds.

The into-storage movement of eggs totaled 1,529,000 cases of shell and 26,414,000 pounds of frozen egg meats, a total case-equivalent accumulation for the month of 2,284,000 cases. July 1 stocks of 7,509,000 cases of shell and 150,207,000 pounds of frozen, totaling the equivalent of 11,801,000 cases, were 782,000 cases greater than those of July 1, 1939, and 717,000 cases above average. The Surplus Marketing Administration holds 933,000 cases for relief distribution.

Contrary to the normal trend for this season of the year, cold storage stocks of frozen poultry were increased. July 1 holdings of 82,389,000 pounds were increased during June by 5,485,000 pounds. The July 1 total exceeded holdings of a year earlier by 14,919,000 and the 5-year average for July by 24,754,000 pounds.

The classes of poultry showing heaviest increases for the month were fowls, with 4,372,000 pounds, and ducks with 2,754,000. Turkey holdings were reduced by 3,468,000 pounds.

MEATS AND LARD

Little change from June 1 was indicated in total stocks of all frozen and cured meats.

Stocks of beef were reduced by about 7 million pounds; pork holdings were increased by $4\frac{1}{2}$ million, and miscellaneous items were increased by about 2 million pounds.

Beef stocks were 12 million pounds above those of July 1 a year ago and about a $1\frac{1}{2}$ million above the 5-year (1935-39) July 1 average.

Pork holdings were 100 million pounds heavier than those on hand July 1, 1939, and 122 million above average.

Lard stocks again reached an all time record. The 306 million pounds on hand on July 1, 1940, were 157 million pounds greater than July 1 1939 stocks and $175\frac{1}{2}$ million above average for July 1.
